REUNION OF THE 49TH

Veterans Hold Their Annual Meeting in Bellefonte

44 OF THEM PRESENT

Business Meeting Held Thursday Afternoon and an Interesting Campfire in the Evening.

WILL MEET AT HARRISBURG NEXT YEAR

Bellefonte had the privilege last week of entertaining the Twenty-seventh reunion of the Veteran Society of the Forty-ninth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, one of the most heroic and noted regiments that fought during the late war. It is usually considered a great privilege in any town to entertain the veterans of any regiment in their reunions and meetings and on this occasion Bellefonte was not behind former receptions accorded the veterans.

Out of the total enrollment of 1597 only 387 are now surviving and these are scattered through twenty-six states of the union. Of the surviving members forty-four answered to their names when the roll was called Thursday.

The bussiness session of the reunion was held in the rooms of Gregg Post No. 95 Thursday afternoon, with the president, Capt. James A. Quigley, of Blanchard, in the chair. Following the prayer by the chaplain the roll of the surviving members was called, a list of which is given below. The minutes of last year's meeting which was held at Huntingdon were read and approved. The president appointed the following committees:

Obituary—A. M. Smith, Jackson Corkle and Henry Robison.

Auditing—Oliver S. Rumberger, Don Juan Williams, J. B. Downing.

Secretary Robert S. Westbrook read a number of letters and several telegrams from members who could not be present for the reunion on account of remoteness, age and infirmities. Judging from the tone of their letters their hearts must have yearned to be with their former comrades—in—arms and again take them by the hand and retell the stories of their war time days.

The following officers were elected to serve during the coming year.

President, Oliver S. Rumberger, of Warriorsmark.

Vice presidents, David Yeager, Sunbury; Samuel Ewing, Newton Hamilton; Samuel B. Miller, Altoona; W. H. Irvin, McVeytown; Samuel H. Bickle, Beavertown.

Secretary, Robert S. Westbrook, Altoona.

Assistant secretary, Oliver S. Rumberger, Warriorsmark.

Treasurer, Robert A. Work, Honey Grove.

Chaplain, W. H. Bratton, Orange, N. J.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Harrisburg, the time to be set at the discretion of the Secretary.

Following is the obituary report for the past year:

Frank Bolig, Frank Taggert, John Lepley, Henry Hickson, Wm. Freeman, Wm. Noll, David H. Johns, Capt. Calvin, Dewitt, Abram, A. Boyer, Samuel B. Bastley, Isreal Albright, Joseph Eckley, James A. Shields.

At seven o'clock in the evening the attending veterans assembled at the hall of Gregg Post and escorted by the Coleville band marched to the court house where the annual camp fire was held. The meeting opened with special music by Christy Smith's orchestra, Prayer was made by Rev. James B. Stein, D. D., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. The address of welcome was made by Hon. John G. Love and the response on behalf of the visiting veterans was made by J. B. Downing, of Philadelphia. Following this the President called upon a number of those present for addresses. Among those who responded were Rev. John Hewitt, rector of the St. John's Episcopal church of Bellefonte, an honorary member of Gregg Post and an ex-Confederate soldier; Col H. S. Taylor, of the Fifth regiment N. G. P.; Dr. A. M. Smith, of Beaver Springs; Clement Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte; Hon. John A. Daley, of Curtin township, a veteran of the 45th; Col. Austin Curtin, of Roland; and a Mr. Stevenson, who is a son of one of the veterans of the 49th. The addresses of the evening were filled with patriotic sentiments and stories of the war, but all bore upon the great lesson that had been taught by the valor of our soldiers and the example they set for the generations to come. These addresses were interspersed with excellent music by Christy Smith's orchestra.

The 49th was one of the most gallant regiments in the Civil war and was known as the "Fighting 49th." The regiment was recruited from the central part of the state and its numbers were composed mostly of sturdy farmer boys. From the time they went out in '61 until the close of the war they were always where the fighting was the thickest and the battles the hardest fought. Those who are familiar with the history of the Army of the Potomac will remember the heroic part they had in the battles in which that noted army participated and the work they did in the closing hard fought battles of the war. Time and space will not permit a history of the regiment but wherever they were needed they served their country well.

A brief business session was held Friday morning to hear the reports of the secretary and treasurer and to attend to a few routine matters. Before adjourning a vote of thanks was tendered the county commissioners for the use of the court house, Gregg Post for the use of their rooms, Hon. John G. Love, Rev. John Hewitt and Col. Taylor for their speeches and all others who helped in any way to make the stay of the veterans in Bellefonte a pleasant one. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $4.58 in the treasury after paying the expenses of the reunion, not counting any of the dues paid in this year for the conducting of next year's reunion.

Farewells were then said and the comrades took their departure hoping to again greet many of the veterans next year at Harrisburg. May they all survive to enjoy the happiness of participating in next year's reunion.

Boom for Renovo.

According to a statement published in the Erie Times the large machine shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, located at that place are soon to be removed to Renovo. There are about 300 men employed in the Erie machine shops and their removal will take upwards of 1000 people, including the employes and their families, to Renovo. The removal of the shops is the principal topic of conversation in the railroad town and the matter of accommodating the big increase in population is giving much concern. All the dwelling houses are filled now and there will evidently be a big building boom should the shops from Erie be removed to Renovo.

It has also been stated that a large steel plant will be erected in Renovo about the first of the year and that will give employment to an additional force of skilled workmen.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS

Missing Hunter was Found With Head Full of Shot

MURDERED IS CHARGE

His Gun, Ammunition and Valuables Missing. Three Negroes were Arrested on Suspicion.

ANOTHER MAN'S CAP FOUND NEARBY

Media, Pa., Oct. 27—John Denny, Jr., aged twenty-three years, was found dead in a woods near Upper Providence under conditions which strongly point to his having been murdered. A large hole had been torn in the lower portion of his face by a charge of shot.

Denny started from his home in this place on Friday to go hunting for rabbits. He carried a magazine gun and plenty of ammunition and was seen late in the afternoon going toward the woods where he was found. He was then walking with a tall man. The suggestion that he was the victim of an accident or shot himself is discounted by the fact that his gun and ammunition and all of his valuables had been taken. Beside the body was found a dilapidated cap. His own hat also lay nearby. Several shattered twigs were also picked up in front of the body. These bits of wood the authorities say show that the charge of shot came from some distance away and not from Denny's own gun.

A superficial examination of the wound in Denny's face seems also to indicate that two charges struck him and that the shot was not of the size he used. The police have arrested three negroes, who admit they talked with Denny early on Friday afternoon, but they declare they know nothing of the shooting.

What is regarded as the strongest evidence of murder by the detectives is the fact that shot removed from the young man's head are not of the same size as those used by Denny. This fact is considered a clew that will ultimately solve the mystery.

The prevailing murder theory takes two possible motives into accounts That Denny was slain either in a dispute over the killing of a rabbit, or was followed and shot down by some one who coverted his gun and equipment

John D. Thompson.

Monday night about eleven o'clock John David Thompson, one of Howard's retired and respected citizens, passed away at his home. Mr. Thompson had been in ill health for about thirty-five years and for many years has not been able to perform anymanual labor.

The deceased was born in Howard township November 2, 1837 and resided all his life time in Howard and Liberty townships. For the past fourteen years he has lived a retired life in Howard borough. In his earlier days Mr. Thompson was a very successful farmer and when his health failed he gave the work over to his sons. Mr. Thompson was a man well liked by all in the community in which he lived, was always faithful to the trust and confidence placed in him and always performed his duties well.

Surviving him are the following children: John A., of Tyrone; Mrs. Rachel Confer, Daniel, Parker, W. H., Mrs. Cora Walizer and David H., all of Howard. One brother, Henry Thompson, of Liberty township, and two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Neff of Howard, and Mrs. Rebecca Sayers, of Jacksonville, also survive.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at one o'clock, services to be conducted in the Methodist church. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Howard.

Found Knife in Tree.

Samuel Bowman and crew while engaged in cutting timber in Centre county for A. P. White, of this city, felled a large white oak tree recently that was three feet in diameter. In it was the remains of a pocket knife which was in a limb 42 feet from the ground. The blade was encysted about two inches, showing that it had been there forty years or more, judging from the growth each year of an oak tree.—Lock Haven Express.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Academy Wins From the Strong Dickinson Seminary Team.

The crack Academy eleven won its sixth victory on Saturday when it went to Williamsport and defeated the Dickinson Seminary team by 3 goals or 18 points to nothing. Dickinson had neither been defeated or scored upon up to this game. A large crowd had gathered by 3 p. m. fully expecting to see the older and heavier team win from Bellefonte by a safe score, but their expectations proved to be unwarranted for the Academy boys from the first blow of the whistle went at their opponents with a spirit and dash that would have done credit to a college team. In the very first play they took advantage of a fumble when Wyckoff made a touchdown after a long run through several opposing players, Dillon kicked a pretty goal. This score rather took the nerve of Dickinson for they seemed to be wholly unable to withstand the terrific onslaughts into the line and the excellent interference around the ends for long gains made by the Academy heroes. It was not long before Smith had secured the second touchdown which was soon followed by the third touchdown by Dillon. The latter kicked all the goals successfully. He had two chances to kick goals from the field but the ball was too wet. These points were made by straight football. The forward pass and end kicks could not be used on account of the wet conditions.

In the second half Dickinson made a desperate effort to score but the strong defensive work of the Academy prevented. Wagner, who as yet has found no centre to equal him, Wyckoff, Oberlin, Thomas, Dillon, Wright and Smith were stars in the game though every player played a faultless game and deserves praise.

The big game of the season will be played here on Monday afternoon, Nov. 2 at 2 o'clock. Indiana Normal the only team which has beaten the Academy and that when the Academy players were sore and stiff from a hard game the day before. With play our boys and you may depend upon it the Academy will win or die in the attempt.

Boy Killed at Pine Glen.

Ferd, the 13 year old son of J. Briel, of Karthaus, was the victim of a hunting accident at Pine Glen on Wednesday. The lad left home that morning in company with another lad, Charles Meeker to deliver some groceries by wagon to a customer of Merchant Joseph A. Heckendorn, at Pine Glen. Ferd took his gun along expecting to do some hunting in the woods between Karthaus and Pine Glen.

The boys drove through to their destination without seeing anything to shoot at and had gone on their return trip about a quarter of a mile when the gun which he carried was accidentally discharged, the contents entering the boy's body, supposedly killing him instantly. Upon the discharge of the weapon the boy fell to the bottom of the wagon and his companion suddenly becoming alarmed, whipped up the horse to its best speed and drove to their home in Karthaus without even stopping to see what the boy's condition was. Upon their arrival the boy was found dead.

Bowles—Bible

At six o'clock Thursday morning Miss Elsie M. Bible, of Bellefonte, and Dr. Crawford M. Bowles, of Altoona, were united in marriage in the Methodist church. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor Rev. James B. Stein, D. D. The couple left on the 6 35 train over the Lewisburg road on a wedding tour to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Washington. Upon their return they will reside at Sixth avenue and Eight street, Altoona.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bible and being a lady of many good qualities will make an excellent wife for the husband of her choice. The groom is a son of Prof. James B. Bowles, principal of the Eight ward schools of Altoona, and is a dentist by profession, enjoying a lucrative practice in the city of his residence. They have the best wishes of their friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

VICTIM OF MASKED MEN

Clarion County Merchant Was Held up in Daylight

WAS ROBBED OF $500

Was Driving Along the Road When Two Strangers Stepped out From the Brush

MAN WAS WOUNDED BUT WILL RECOVER

Shippenville, Pa., Oct. 27.—One of the boldest of highway robberies ever heard of in Clarion county took place about noon today, just north of town.

Maurice Snyder, a prominent and wealthy business man of Fryburg, a hamlet seven miles north, while on his way to Clarion to attend to some business, was held up, shot in the head and all his money taken, amounting to nearly $500 in cash.

Snyder was alone and driving when two strangers roughly dressed stepped out of the brush along the road. One took the horse by the head and the other came back to the buggy and told Snyder to shell out. He said, "What do you mean?" And at that instant the man at the buggy pulled out a revolver and shot him the bullet entering over the right temple, striking the skull at an angle. It came out without penetrating the brain, just over the right eye.

Snyder does not remember any more. He crawled to a blacksmith shop near there and fell unconscious. He will recover.

Joseph B. Erb.

Joseph B. Erb, a former resident of Pine Grove Mills, this county, died suddenly Saturday at Kane. He had been in good health previous to his death and several weeks ago had made an extended trip over the country.

The deceased was born in Lancaster Co. 84 years ago and came to this county when he was quite young. Thirty-four years ago he left the county to engage in lumbering in other parts. For some time his home has been in Tionesta, Forest county. Mr. Erb was well known throughout this section of the county having at one time been engaged in various manufacturing industries, being connected with the Erb foundry and mill and in the manufacture of stoves. He was one of the charter members of the Pennsvalley lodge I. O. O. F. His wife, who was Mary Hoover, has been dead for thirty-five years. Surviving him are three children, Harry of Kane, Grant of Texas, and Flora who is married and resides in Salt Lake City. Of the large family of children only two survive, Jacob Erb, of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Sophia Motters, of Lykens this state.

The remains arrived here from Kane Tuesday noon and were taken to Pine Grove Mills on the afternoon train, at which place interment was made in the new cemetery at four o'clock.

Will Ask for Cold Storage Law.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust will ask the next Legislature to enact a law prohibiting the sale of cold storage poultry and eggs unless they are labeled as such. He will also ask for a law to put a stop to a practice now being carried on in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, whereby spoiled eggs are opened, the decomposed parts picked out and the residue sold by the pound to bakers for use in cakes and pastry.

It is proposed to get at the cold storage evil by providing that fowls or eggs kept in refrigerating establishments for more than ten days shall be labeled "cold storage," so that the purchaser shall not be in the dark as to just what he is buying.

Another requirement will be that poultry shall be cleaned and drawn before being placed in cold storage. The Dairy and Food Division learns that chickens, ducks, etc., are kept sometimes in cold storage houses for two years without the entrails having been removed, and then sold for food.

—The car shops of the Cambria Steel company at Johnstown, which has been idle since last spring, will resume operations Thursday with a full complement of 1500 men.

TAFT'S RELIGION.

He Has Been Unduly Charged With Not Being a Christian

The fact that Hon. W. H. Taft is a Unitarian in his religious beliefs and church membership is being made the basis of much attack. In the interest of fair play, the full facts should be stated. It has been charged that Mr. Taft is not a christian. Without discussing the question as to whether joining any church proves that a man is really a christian, it may be stated that the Unitarians are believers in the christian faith. In a national conference, a common basis of belief was found in the statement that "We accept the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with his teachings that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man." Unitarian belief has further been expressed in the five principles, adopted by practically all the churches, "We believe in the Fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, the leadership of Jesus, salvation by character, the progress of mankind onward and upward forever."

It has also been charged that Mr. Taft denies the divinity of Jesus Christ. As a matter of fact, the Unitarian church does not stand for any particular theory of the nature of Jesus. It maintains that the real religious and christian duty is to follow him as a great leader in spiritual life. This particular conception as to what Jesus was, is entirely a personal matter, with which the church has nothing to do. The distinctive characteristic of the Unitarian church is its frank adoption of the rational principle in religion. It insists that religion shall be treated in the scientific spirit of free investigation. It asserts the authority of the individual reason and holds that no statement should be accepted that does not approve itself to one's intellect as being worthy of belief.

The Unitarian church offers a free fellowship. It holds that freedom is absolutely essential to religious development. Every member is at liberty to form his own conception of the truth, and is expected to be true to it, however much it may differ from the belief of others. There is no hint of conformity or compulsion. The common basis of union is a desire to know the truth and to do the good. There is the fullest acceptance of the principle of progress in religion. It affirms a God of modern life, an enlarging revelation of His will and truth, and an ever-progressing faith keeping pace with the advancement of human thought and evolution Unitarianism simply insists upon having in religion the same liberty that all Americans claim in all other realms of thought and action.

Will Wed in Earnest.

Arthur Orr, of Pittsburg, and Miss Maude Eichelberger, who were the principals in the "joke wedding" that took place recently, at Sunbury, and which subsequently proved to be less of a joke than they thought possible, will be married again soon, this time in earnest. Judge Auten has ordered, in accordance with a petition presented on behalf of the couple, that a new license be issued, the name of Miss Eichelberger being substituted for that of "Matilda Smith," which was the name assumed by the bride at the ceremony known as the "joke wedding."

Young Orr was in court when Judge Auten rendered his decision, and he lost no time in securing a new license. The couple will be quietly married and will live in Pittsburg.

Borrowing Engines

Things don't look so panicky down about Williamsport as the present conditions would indicate. Railroad business on the divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad entering that city has become so brisk within the past week that engines are being borrowed from other points to move the immense amount of freight. Each day the yards are filled to overflowing, and several new yard crews will have to be added if the rush continues. Eight crews are handling trains between Tyrone and Sunbury and in a few more days two more crews will be added between those two points. Increasing business on the Northern Central has necessitated the placing of three additional engines on the run to Elmira.

Forest fires at Renovo Thursday evening threated to communicate to several residences and the school house on the north side. A large force of men worked hard to keep back the flames and the situation became so serious that men were called from the shops to assist.

FORESTRY IN CENTRE CO.

Forester Looking After State Land in This Section.

NOW AT CENTRE HALL

Representative of State Department is Establishing a System of Protection on the Nittany Mountain.

PLAN WILL GUARD AGAINST FIRES

[From the Centre Reporter]

As is well known to most of the readers the state has been the purchaser of many hundred thousand of acres of mountain land in all portions of Pennsylvania, but it is not perhaps, generally known that the state is making an effort to care for the young timber growing on these reservations. At the present time much of the land purchased by the state is valueless, but as time goes on and generations pass away, the little twigs now visible will mature into the sturdy trees of their kind, and the mountain tracts despised by the present day lumbermen will be a source of revenue to the state, and in the mean time will greatly protect the hundreds of mountain streams and the innumerable mountain-side springs which afford the supply of water for villages, and nearby farms.

In the townships of Potter, Gregg, Spring and Walker the state owns over five thousand acres of land, all located on Nittany Mountain. The portions in Potter and Gregg townships lie on the south slope of that mountain, adjoining the tracts of George F. Emerick, Clyde E. Dutrow, Jacob Sharer, McNitt-Huyett & Company, the Harper estate, the Bible sisters, Samuel Bruss, George H. Emerick, B. H. Arney, B. D. Brisbin and the writer. Adjoining this are large tracts lying in the Greens Valley district in Spring township, and this district is now receiving special attention from James E. McNeal, of Lancaster, who has been located at Centre Hall since the middle of September. Mr. McNeal is a forester, and is working under the direction of the State Department of Forestry, of which Robert S. Conklin is president.

Forester McNeal is at present devoting his time to the establishment of a system of protection against fire, which is done by cutting a net work of roads through the reservations. As is admitted by all, fire is the greatest enemy of reforestation, and consequently it is against this element that all efforts are being directed. Under the personal direction of Forester McNeal a fifteen foot roadway is being cut through the Greens Valley district. This road is a continuation of the road intersecting with the pike at a point below the Dale farm on Nittany Mountain, and will form a main avenue from that point northward to Hecla Park.

The establishing of these roads are for two purposes—first, as stated above, to aid in combating forest fires, and second, to be used when the time arrives that the state will begin operations on these tracts. By operations is meant when the state will make sale of timber from the present apparently worthless territory.

In establishing the main artery mentioned all the under brush is cut out, but trees of valuable species—provided they will not interfere with wagoning at a future date—are not disturbed. By doing this preliminary work now, future generations will have little trouble in building a road for wagon or steam when occasion demands. In addition to these main roads other roads will be cut along the boundaries of the state's possessions, but these will be mainly for fire protection.

State Defeats W. U. P.

The Penn State eleven had a hard fight on Saturday with the West Virginia University and they took the Mountaineers into camp in conclusive fashion. One hard earned touchdown was secured in each half and both came as the result of well-directed clean cut plays. The teams were even in weight, well coached and fought a magnificent battle. State's first touchdown was made by Hirshman during the first seven minutes of the play. The W. V. U. had only one chance to score, when State fumbled a punt and Core recovered the ball. With the ball on State's 20-yard line West Virginia could make but three yards in two rushes and a vain attempt at field goal was made. The visitors did not pass the ball in State's territory in the second half yet it was only after the hardest kind of work that Mosser was shoved over for the final score. The game ended 12 0

The Chestnut Worm Debate.

Does the worm bore into the chestnut or does the chestnut grow around the worm?

Some who have struggled with this question take the view that the larva of the worm is laid in the bud of the chestnut burr. Others have contended with just as much heat that the worm climbs the tree and tunnels into the nut in search of a home and a well filled larder.

Still others have ably defended the view that the worm does not enter the chestnut until it falls upon the ground. Invariably the most confident debaters have championed this idea, which happens to be furthest from the fact.

Reference of the question to the State Division of Economic Zoology, the highest authority in the State on matters of this kind, elicited the response that the worm bores into the chestnut while the nut, safely inside the burr, hangs securely upon the tree. Shorn of the Latinity of scientific terminology the history of the chestnut worm may be indicated briefly as follows:

The genesis of the little parasite which invests the eating of chestnuts with a mild form of uncertainity is the chestnut weevil, which is provided with a proboscis three times the length of its body, which is made long on purpose to enable the bug to pierce a hole in the green and tender burr without injury from the burr's sharp spines. The next step is to lay the egg which in time developes into the worm, which bores its way into the chestnut, and is the worm of commerce that seems sometimes the most important ingredient of the corner Italian's stock in trade.

Good Gifts and Otherwise

In our registry of persons contributing in aid of the Olive Branch Union Chapel we have reached not less than one hunhundred cheerful givers. Coleville, including women and children as well as men, has done nobly by self-sacrifice, contributing in money and work more than $250 with patient continuance in well doing. With no mention of religious names Bellefonte, true to her repute for generosity, has quickly and kindly responded to this nearby Macedonian call; only two or three refused and these who don't know or don't care to know Coleville's religious situation. For those who have been overlooked the time is now for us to receive their offerings, however small, to help us meet the last bills and dedicate free from debt. The chapel is consistently constructed pro bono publico with no semblance of partiality.

Plans are maturing for a speedy, happy and an abundant entrance of the Olive Branch Union Bible School into the completed edifice for the worship of God and "for instruction in righteousness."

Pheasants Were Roasted.

Either J. G. Miller, general sales agent for the Adrian Furnace company had an unique experience or he has a fertile imagination due no doubt to long practice in talking up the superior quality of his pig iron. Yesterday he broke up an amateur huntfest at the Commercial hotel when he declared that on a recent automobile trip he ran into a flock of quail most of which fluttered away as he passed. After traveling a few miles he began to detect an odor like roast flesh. He stopped to investigate and was surprised to find a brace of Bob Whites lying on the radiator, which was about as hot as a cook stove. The constant jarring movement of the machine had kept turning the carcasses and both birds were done to a turn. The party dined on quail before proceeding onward.—DuBois Express.

Big Revival at Latrobe.

Following a fervid religious revival of three weeks held in the skating rink at Latrobe, a demonstration unprecedented in Latrobe's history was held Friday night when civic and church organizations, firemen and police marched in a big evangelical parade.

The demonstration was in charge of the four ministers who are conducting the nightly meetings. The Rev. John A. Davis, the Rev. Frank A. Mills, the Rev. George Carr and the Rev. H. R. Harrington, all of New York. A special train from Altoona carried nearly 1,000 persons, including several bands. The route of the procession was illuminated, while buildings were decorated with flags and bunting. Grand Army veterans rode in automobiles. One hundred girls gowned in white carried flags and pennants. Decorated floats carried little girls singing revival hymns. The sidewalks were crowded with spectators. Although the skating rink has a seating capacity of 2,500, hundreds were unable to gain admittance to the meeting which followed the parade.

There have been several hundred conversions at the meetings, which will continue indefinitely. The services are undenominational and all the ministers of Latrobe are co-operating with the evangelists.

TO PROBE BANK FAILURE

Will Try to Find Out What Cashier Did With Money

AT WAYNESBURG BANK

President Appointed Examiners to Investigate Failure of Farmers and Drovers National Bank

FEELING AGAINST RINEHART BITTER

Waynesburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—Considerable excitement was occasioned this morning when it became known that the special bank examiners sent by President Roosevelt to investigate the failure of the Farmers' and Drovers' National Bank had arrived. Stanley W. Finch, chief examiner of the Department of Justice E. W. Lawrence, personal representative of Attorney General Bonaparte, and H. J. Wagner, stenographer, comprised the party which, immediately after its arrival, set to work.

While the Government's representative made no direct statement, it is understood their chief desire is to ascertain just what disposition was made of the looted bank's funds by ex-Cashier J. B. F. Rinehart. It has been said that politicians have benefited to a considerable extent and before the special examiners are through many Greene County politicians will be called into tell what they know.

It has been said time and again that Senator Penrose's name will, sooner or later, be brought into the bank muddle. It has been said that Rinehart's political position in Greene County, where he was the Republican leader, has been owing to the reckless use he made of the money belonging to the Farmers' and Drovers' depositors. In fact, Rinehart has been openly accused of making this use of the money and to date he has not denied it.

Several depositors, Attorneys James Purnam and H. F. Downey and Norman W. Sayers were in conference with the examiners during the day, and it was stated a formal plan of action had been mapped out.

The feeling against Rinehart here has become more bitter and the Government's representatives will not lack assistance in making up a case against him. Rinehart went to Pittsburg today and had a long talk with some of the political leaders there.

It was started today that Receiver John H. Strawn, of the defunct bank, will place in the possession of the special examiners tomorrow all the evidence he has and all that has been accumulated by persons other than himself. Some of the evidence gathered includes alleged forged checks, promissory notes and other negotiable paper.

CASTORIA. Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Pennsy will Buy Rails.

President McCrae of the Pennsylania Railroad was in Pittsburg this week and when interviewed said in part said:

"The earnings of the Pennsylvania Railroad will average this year about 18 per cent lower than last, and this in view of the fact we running during the summer 25 per cent below last year's figures.

"The Pennsylvania Railroad will be in the market next year for large rail orders—considerably in excess of those placed this year. With business conditions improving at the ratio obtaining at present, and I firmly believe there will be a continuance, the Pennsylvania system will require additional equipment to handle the enormous tonnage in prospect. Extensive improvements will be made and the road will maintain the high standard always characterizing the system. The physical condition so far as we traveled today is in excellent shape, but increasing business will demand expenditures in every direction."

In replying to the question whether he would use his influence for the Republican party he let it be understood every employe of the great railroad could vote as his conscience dictated, and said his own vote was all he could offer.

He is Getting There.

The Barnesboro Star gets off the following about a former well known Centre county boy:—

In the galaxy of illustrious men who proudly claim Centre county as the place of their nativity, none stand out more conspicuously in the merchantile world than does John Lincoln Rich, whose habitation at present is Tyrone. John first saw the light of day at the beautiful town of Unionville, which nestles in the foot hills of the Alleghenies near the metropolis of Julian. His early education was acquired in the public school, and being precocious youth with a mind fired with landable ambition, he always stood at the head of his class or—in disgrace. After being graduated with highest honors from the Fleming University he decided to read law and become a Governor, but while on a visit to Bellefonte he found so many aspirants for that honor that he hired himself out as cash boy in a country store, at munificent salary of $1.78 per. So faithfully did he discharge every duty that in a few years he was given the responsible position of buyer in the pumpkin department. About this time the large wholesale notion store, of Shiebley, Hettrich & Tyler, Philadelphia, Pa., heard of his integrity and business ability and employed him to represent them in this section at a handsome salary, and he is still connected with the firm. Mr. Rich frequently visits Barnesboro and is popular with all our merchants, judging by the number and size of his orders. He is a man of fine appearance, courteous and agreeable in manner with no vicious habits. By judicious economy he has ammassed quite a large fortune which is invested in bank stocks and other equally "safe and sane" securities. Being still a single man he is a great favorite with the young ladies who are seeking wealth and position and incidentally a husband.

Hunters Should be Careful

As the hunting season is now here there is great danger of the woods which are as dry as punk, being fired by sportsmen in many ways, and so all who go to the woods should take special care to prevent any such fires. The careless hunter can set the woods afire very easily, by merely throwing a burning match on the ground which is now covered with dry leaves, knock the ashes from his pipe and from burning campfires, etc.

There is little or no danger in starting fires by discharging guns in the woods, as it is foolishly believed by some people. The few sparks that issue from the mouth of a gun barrel are not sufficient to cause any damage, and the wads that cover the powder and shot are made of a felt material and will not take fire easily. Of course there was some damage from this source when muzzle-loading guns were in use and paper used for wads. But even those who use the muzzle-loaders now-a-days use felt wads instead of paper.

Blacksnake's Odd Trick.

A blacksnake of the racer variety gave Henry Williams, who resides on the mountains north of Altoona, the ride of his life Wednesday. It was sunning itself in the road when Williams' horse trampled almost on it. Instantly it coiled itself about the horse's leg, and with a snort and a spring the terrified animal sprang forward and plunged down the mountain road at breakneck speed. Williams could do no more than keep the horse safely on the road, which ran along a deep ravine for some distance. The snake held on for a mile, then loosed its coils and was left behind; but the horse ran for three miles before it could be brought to a halt.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Winter Courses in Agriculture.

Two hundred and twenty-five students are enrolled in the four and two years' courses in agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College. Their education is part of the work of our state school of agriculture, but there are other young men needing service. Many persons do not have the time for a college education, but they can give the winter to study. For this reason winter courses in agriculture were established at the college last year, and ninety men were enrolled.

They found the lectures and practical exercises adapted to the need of men who want to increase their earning power. Underlying principles were studied, and practical methods of dealing with crops, soils, orchards, animals and dairy products were given these young men. They returned to their homes with a desire to encourage others to come to the college next winter for study under its practical scientists. The enrollment will be large. The courses begin December 1st and close February 24th. The association with hundreds of students in agriculture and the study of problems arising in the every-day life of the farmer make these winter courses an opportunity that a bright young man cannot afford to miss.

The free illustrated bulletin describing the five winter courses in agriculture is ready for distribution. Address School of Agriculture, State College, Pa.

The Woman's Home Companion for November.

The November Jubilee issue of the Woman's Home Companion has a special interest, because it is the Seven Hundredth Number of the oldest living Woman's Magazine. This issue of 88 pages, illustrated by famous artists, contrasted with the flimsy 8-page issue of the same magazine which appeared in 1875, is a vivid reminder of the great strides made in periodical publishing. That old issue, popular in its day, is a modest ancestor to the big influential magazine of today.

This November issue, on which the publishers have spent special effort because of its anniversary feature, contains, in addition to its regular departments for women two articles of importance to home dwellers and home renters. These articles, with facts and figures, show the advantage of owning a home.

In addition to the usual household departments and the enlarged fashion department, there are many novel suggestions for Christmas gifts and some particularly timely advice regarding the buying of furs.

Tests Were Successful.

Thirty-two hundred and fifty-five signal "efficiency" tests were made by the Pennsylvania railroad during August, with the result that 99.25 per cent. of the trains checked gave perfect observance to all signals. These tests consisted in setting signals at unexpected positions, extinguishing signal lights, placing torpedoes on the track, and causing such other unusual conditions to confront those in direct charge of trains on the road.

While the signal tests made by the Pennsylvania during August were practically perfect the records received at the general offices in Philadelphia of accidents on the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie show that the month was practically free from accidents to passenger trains. Out of the millions of persons carried, only two passengers were injured, and these injuries were very slight.

CANADA MENACE TO OUR FARMERS

Pennsylvania Grangers Vitally Concerned In the Tariff.

PENROSE'S STRATEGIC POST

As Leading Member of the All-Powerful Financial Committee of the United States Senate, the Senior Senator Will Be An Important Factor In Protecting the Varied Interests of the Keystone State.

[Special Correspondence.]
Harrisburg, Oct.

Attention has been directed in the discussion of the issues of the presidential campaign to the vital interest the farmers of Pennsylvania, and in fact of every state in the Union, have in the continuance of the present system of a protective tariff.

The wonderful strides made by Canada in the development of her agricultural interests, and the rapidly increasing growth of her population, have been the subject of comment by orators who have sought to impress the farmers of the United States with the fact that they, probably more than any other class, are concerned in the success of the Republican party, which means that whatever changes shall be made in the tariff, they shall be made along the lines of protection to American interests.

Thirty millions of people, many of them agriculturalists, will shortly constitute the population of Canada, and the great output from the Canadian farms will come in direct competition with the products of Pennsylvania farms, of New York farms and of the farms of the other states.

Unless there shall be a protective tariff, the American farmer, who is used to the comforts and many of the luxuries of life, will be in direct competition with the Canadian who, while thrifty, does not have anything like the enjoyments of home life that are possessed by the farmers in the United States.

Penrose's Important Position.

Not only the presidency, but congress, must be won to insure to the American farmer, as well as the American manufacturer and workingman, a continuance of the protective tariff.

In Pennsylvania there is a legislature to elect, which in January next will name a successor to United States Senator Boies Penrose.

Senator Penrose occupies an important position in the United States senate.

He is the first Pennsylvanian in many years who has been appointed on the powerful committee on finance. Neither Quay nor Cameron was on this committee.

Penrose was given a position on it immediately after his last re-election, and he is now one of the senior members of the body. It is not improbable that before long he will be filling the chairmanship of this committee. Aldrich, the present chairman, is talking about retiring from the senate. The second ranking member, Burrows, of Michigan, may encounter difficulties in being re-elected on account of the peculiar political conditions in the state. The third member, Platt, of New York, will not be a candidate for re-election, so that Penrose, who comes next, will be moved up to the head of the committee in accordance with precedent in the senate, where seniority is always considered in the ranking of members of committees.

With Penrose in such a splendid strategic role, he will be in a position to guard Pennsylvania's interests, her granger, her industrial, her mining and her other ineresets, which have enjoyed protection.

All tariff legislation must come before the finance committee, and the final settlement of all disputed schedules is referred to a committee on conference, three members of the senate and three of the house, and it is fair to assume Senator Penrose will be one of these conferees, if not the chairman of the senate sub-committee.

The importance of electing Republican members of the legislature will appeal to every one, as well as the urgency of sending Republicans to the lower house of congress, where the Democrats hope to make gains, principally in the west.

Pennsylvania farmers will be interested in an address recently made by John H. Landis, of Lancaster county, in which he emphasized the menace which Canada's industrial development must hold over American farming and dairy interests, as long as there shall be any danger of a revision of the tariff under which the farmers of the United States have become so prosperous.

Timely Talk to Farmers.

In this speech, Mr. Landis, among other things, said:

"In the Democratic national platform adopted at Denver we find no intimation even for 'incidental' protection, but a sweeping declaration for such reductions in the various schedules as 'to restore the tariff to a revenue basis.' This, of course, means the 'revenue basis' of the last Democratic tariff law; the Wilson law of 1894, which was not only a destroyer of industry, a nightmare to capital and an enemy to labor, but a most humiliating failure even as a producer of revenue.

"The Republican party has upheld and defended the industrial policy of protection since its birth, more than half a century ago, because it favored the fostering and encouraging of enterprises and industries through which profitable employment would be given to American labor.

"This magnificent system of a protective tariff has been made as nearly perfect as we find it today, through a varied experience of more than a century. The enactors of every protective tariff law placed upon the statute books of the United States, from the tariff of 1789, during the administration of George Washington, to the Dingley tariff of 1897, during the administration of William McKinley, were rewarded by having periods of prosperity enjoyed by all the people, following their legislative labors.

"If we, as a nation, are to be healthy and strong, our people must be well fed, well clothed, well housed and be enabled to enjoy at least the comforts of life. If our citizenship, the source of all political power in a free republic like ours, is to be pure and unimpaired by unhealthful conditions as it should be, the heads of families must have an opportunity to earn enough above the actual expenses of living to enable them to educate their children and to properly prepare them for the duties of American citizenship.

Peril In Canadian Situation.

"Comparatively few of our people are acquainted with the agricultural situation as it exists today. They do not know of the vast region of country lying to the northwest of us, which is most favorably adapted to the growth of American cereals not only, but to the successful growing of fruit, dairy and orchard products as well.

"The vast provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia have a sufficiently large area of rich and fertile soil to feed the world if need be. It reaches over 800 miles to the northwest of Winnipeg, and contains over 200,000,000 of acres. The soil has a depth of from eighteen inches to two feet of black loam of marvelous fertility, which will grow bountiful crops for at least twenty, possibly thirty years, without the expenditure of a dollar for fertilizers.

"This vast region of territory is favored not only by its natural richness in fertility, but by a most delightful climate. Within its limit will some day be grown over 5,000,000,000 bushels of wheat and other cereals.

"The prevailing impression abroad is that the further north you go, the colder and more severe a climate you must contend with. This is a mistake. You can go 500 miles northwest of Winnipeg and see a country whose climate, soil and natural productiveness will produce most of the farm products grown in Pennsylvania. This may seem startling, but an examination into the facts as they are will find this statement correct. It is true that spring seeding in this region can not be completed before May, and therefore the shortness of the season would seem to operate unfavorably toward the growing and maturing of the crop, but such is not the fact. The one factor which operates strongly in favor of the growing of cereals and other crops is the length of the days.

Gain a Day a Week.

"In the United States we have only about sixteen hours of daylight during the summer, while the region of which I speak has about nineteen hours. Eight hours of darkness has much more of a check upon the growth of plant life than five hours. There is a gain of about a day of sunshine in their favor every week during the summer months.

"Railroads are being extended into all sections of this region. The competition among these, which is practically guaranteed under existing laws in the Dominion of Canada, will in all likelihood secure and continue reasonable transportation rates.

"Grain elevators and warehouses are springing up all over western Canada. According to a list furnished quite recently by the Manitoba grain inspectors division, Manitoba has 685 elevators and twenty warehouses, with a capacity of over 21,000,000 bushels. Saskatchewan has 508 elevators and eight warehouses, with a capacity of nearly 15,000,000 bushels. Alberta has 109 elevators and six warehouses, with a capacity of nearly 4,000,000 bushels, and British Columbia has three elevators and two warehouses, with a capacity of about 276,000 bushels. Thus it is shown that these four young Canadian provinces alone have elevators and warehouses already with a capacity of about 40,000,000 bushels. To these could be added the Ontario Terminals elevators, with a capacity of nearly 20,000,000 bushels.

Immense Crop Reports.

"According to the report of the department of agriculture of Manitoba, the 48,000 farmers of that province raised about 40,000,000 bushels of wheat last year; over 42,000,000 bushels of oats; nearly 17,000,000 bushels of barley, and 428,000 bushels of flax, rye and peas. A total grain crop of almost 100,000,000 bushels in a very unfavorable year. The spring was extremely cold and consequently unusually late.

"To this can be added over 5,000,000 bushels of potatoes; nearly 120,000 tons of timothy and other cultivated grasses; 4,800,000 pounds of butter and other dairy products (these dairy products were marketed at $1,217,000), and poultry, which included 440,000 chickens, 73,000 turkeys and 40,000 geese. These industries will in all likelihood show a very rapid growth this year because the season has been quite favorable and a very large yield can be expected. A yield of 150,000,000 bushels of grain in Manitoba this year should surprise no one.

"Over 100,000 new home-seekers come into western Canada each year, and with this rate of growth among the tillers of the soil in these four provinces, it is readily seen what serious competitors of ours they will soon be.

Protection the Only Hope.

"While we should entertain and cultivate the most neighborly and friendly relations possible with our Canadian neighbors, we should most strenuously insist upon preserving our own markets for the farmers of our country. It is the best market in the world and it is ours, and the strong arm of American law should continue to hold it for us.

"When once the time comes that the farmers of the United States will be unable to produce all our people can consume, a reduction of duties upon agricultural products may be considered, but until then there should be an increase of duties rather than a reduction.

"Even under existing duties $414,000,000 worth of agricultural imports came into this country last year, some of which we should produce ourselves. Of these many millions worth were imported from Canada, a considerable portion of which were competitive agricultural products. If under existing law the Canadian farmer sells $80,000,000 worth of farm products in the markets of the United States, what an invasion of cheap farm products grown on the cheap land of western Canada could we expect if the Dingley duties were reduced?

"Open up the flood gates and let the free farm products of Canada in and you will witness an agricultural paralysis such as this generation of farmers has not yet experienced."

Gave Him All the Lot.

"So that is your final word?" said the rejected one. "Very well, then, Arabella. In your presence I will end the life you have blighted."

He drew forth a small bottle labeled "Poison," drank off the contents and fell senseless at her feet. Did she sink beside him sobbing with remorse? No. She hastily left the room and in two minutes had returned and was kneeling beside him. Then she forced between his lips the following: Half a cup of turpentine, one pint of milk, a cup of warm soapsuds, a tablespoonful of aromatic ammonia, a cup of black coffee, a glass of mustard and water, a gill of vinegar, the juice of a lemon, the beaten whites of six eggs and one cup of flour and water.

"Algernon," she observed coldly as he slowly opened his eyes, "it is evident you had forgotten that I am a graduate of a correspondence course in first aid. My one regret is that, as I could not on the instant ascertain whether you had taken an acid or an alkali, I was compelled to administer all the antidotes I had learned."—London Scraps.

It is said that one of the most beautiful ladies in French society today was first revealed to her husband on the walls of the salon. It was while visiting the salon in 1878 that the youthful Marquis de C. was struck by the childish beauty of a young girl, one of the prominent figures in a picture of a village fete. Her tumbled golden locks, her dancing blue eyes and the freshness and graceful abandon of her figure so fascinated him that he sought out the artist and learned from him that the "little witch" was the daughter of a poor peasant near Avranches, where the picture was painted. To seek out the peasant and to make the acquaintance of his fascinating daughter, child of nine summers, was soon accomplished, and the marquis lost his heart even more completely to the real than to the pictured maid. With the father's approval he had the girl educated at one of the best schools in Paris, and nine years later, on her eighteenth birthday, the maid of the village fete blossomed into the still more lovely Marquise de C.

Ivory Jelly.

The jelly was singularly pale. It almost resembled junket.

"It is ivory jelly," said the invalid. "My English cousins sent me a case of it from Sheffield."

"But why is it called ivory jelly?" they inquired.

"Precisely because it is made of ivory. A third of England's ivory goes to Sheffield, and in the process of grinding and cutting it for knife handles, and so forth, a lot of ivory dust remains, a fine dust, similar to the best flour. Of this the Sheffield folk have made jelly for many years.

"The jelly for some reason is nourishing, extremely so. The doctors prescribe it for the anaemic. And of late a Sheffield firm has taken to manufacturing it on a large scale. Sheffield ivory jelly is now on the market.

"Out of courtesy to my cousins I tried it. To my surprise I found it good. My doctor, sampling it, found it good too. He told me to take the whole case."—Buffalo Express.

An Interesting Book.

A French marquise whose country house is crowded with guests during the hunting season hit upon the original idea of placing a register at the disposal of her visitors in which to record their desires and criticisms. The pages of the richly bound book soon began to be covered with notes such as:

"Count de R. still owes 25 louis. He knows to whom."

"The green peas yesterday were burned."

"Baroness M. flirts—unfortunately not with me."

The marquise has withdrawn the register.

A Jewelers Experience

C. R. Kluger, The Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

"Mem-sahib," asked a young East Indian girl of her English mistress, "why do you wear those sad colors? I don't like them."

"I am in mourning, Lattoo. It is the custom of English ladies."

"But black is the color of night, mem-sahib, and yet you believe that when you die you go to heaven at once. Then why not be glad for your friends who die and wear colors such as we see in birds and flowers and falling water when the sun shines? God doesn't make your colors. Ah, well, Christians are strange people!"—From "The Indian Alps."

A Woman's Country.

The Frenchwoman may not be so classical in form or outline as many of England's beautiful women, but she has undoubtedly the gift of charm, and by virtue of this elusive, tantalizing quality she has for centuries bewitched and enthralled all the men of her country. France today is the most woman ridden country and also the most peaceful, prosperous and contented. The women rule by charm.—Stormy Petrel.

EDITORIAL.

BE a Republican straight in nineteen eight.

THE Twenty-first Congressional district should be represented by a Republican, and Capt. Charles F. Barclay merits your support.

CENTRE county should be represented in the Legislature by a Republican and will be if the Republicans do their duty toward their candidate R. B. Taylor.

W. HARRISON WALKER, the Democratic nominee of Congressman, is running under the delusion that he is "the peoples" candidate. However, the Democratic party is not the whole people, much less the half in the Twenty-first district, as Mr. Walker will find out next Tuesday when he falls short of the mark of the prize of his high ambition.

THE NIGHT RIDERS

Tennessee's Governor is to be commended for the promptness with which he has taken hold of the Reelfoot Lake murder. These night-riding assassins are but one phase of a continuous lawnessness that has brought shame to half a dozen States of the South. Sometimes the night riders burn the property of cotton planters. Some times it is the warehouse of a tobacco grower that is put to the torch. The Tennessee instance relates to the ownership of certain lands.

But whether it is cotton or tobacco or land the method of terrorism is the same. Reckless men gather and disguise themselves and ride through the darkness of the night to committ their atrocities. It is the torch they carry or murder that they aim at, or both. They seek through assassination and incendiarism and brutal floggings to enforce strict obedience to their mandates.

Governor Patterson, of Tennessee has declared that so far as his State is concerned this sort of thing must stop. And it will stop shall he succeed in running down the guilty and by legal process, hang them as they hang their own victims.

But before other States can be cleared of those night riding murderers there must be similar drastic action in every one of them. The Southern sections afflicted by these dastards should drop everything else nntil the hangman's noose has done its proper work.

IN casting your ballot next Tuesday do not cut a single Republican on the ticket. They are all good eligible men and merit the support of every Republican voter.

THE entire Republican county ticket is entitled to the earnest support of Republican voters. This is a case where the voter should take pains to do as he would be done by.

IF elected Recorder William H. Brown will fill that office as satisfactorially as any other, and as to his qualifications there is no questioning. He is an ambitious young man and should receive the support of every Republican voter.

THE gamblers of New York state are opposed to Hughes because he advocated the anti-race track gambling bill, now a law in that state. There ought to be a sufficient number of decent, lawabiding voters in the Empire state to elect Hughes however.

FOR the office of County Auditors the Republican party has nominated two experienced and accurate accountants. R. D. Musser, of Gregg township, and H. B. Pontius, of Bellefonte, will make capable and efficient officials and we predict for them a safe majority.

FOR Sheriff of Centre county the Republicans have chosen an honest, sober and trustworthy citizen of Philipsburg. His experience in life has made him fully capable of filling this important office and William E. Hurley is going to be the next Sheriff of Centre county.

THE Republicans have two men on the ticket who have been very practical all their lives and are fully competent for the office of County Commissioners. In supporting Harry E. Zimmerman and Jacob Woodring for this important office you are working for the best interests of every citizen in the county.

THOSE who had any business in connection with the Register's office at any time during the past three years realize that they have been treated most courteously at all times, and are going to support Earle C. Tuten, the present incumbent, for the second term. Mr. Tuten should be rewarded with a second term for the able and competent manner in which he has filled that office during his first term. Moreover, it has long been the custom with that office to re-elect for the second term all who prove efficient and worthy, and Mr. Tuten should be accorded the same compliment.

THE LOCOMOTIVE AND FOREST FIRES.

A map of the region of this year's forest fires in the Adirondacks show that with very few exceptions these burnt tracks follow the line of the railroads. There are other causes of forest fires, but the most common source of this destruction is the locomotive deposits of burning sparks. Where the forest is near to the railroad line the dry and fallen leaves of Autumn can hardly escape ignition. When a period of drought has eliminated all dampness from the forest floor the conditions are ripe for a destructive forest fire wherever railroad tracks and forest are near neighbors.

That forests and railroad tracks are allowed to be near neighbors is because railroad builders, like nearly every one else, have had no thought o fthe future in their treatment of forests. A clear way for the tracks is all they have sought for. On each side of the railroad there should be a wide lane in which trees and brush should not be suffered to grow and fallen leaves and dried grass never permitted to accumulate. It takes some trouble and expense to secure this, but the trouble and expense would be trifling compared with the great annual loss from forests fires, caused by the policy of raining burning sparks from locomotives on the fallen leaves of the forest.

IF J. C. Meyer had asserted himself for local option before he announced himself as a Democratic candidate for Legislature it might have carried some weight. As it is his chances have been weakened and he will lose a great many more of his own party votes than he will win from other parties,

DR. S. M. HUFF, of Milesburg, the Republican candidate for Coroner should not be overlooked, as he is one of the party's straightforward men, a soldier and good enterprising citizen. Vote your ticket straight and that will include the Doctor along with all the other good men on the ticket.

AMONG all the good men who appear on the Republican ticket there is not a more pleasing personality than George G. Fink, the candidate for Treasurer. Mr. Fink has made an honest, straightforward canvass and should be supported upon his merits. He is fully qualified to discharge the duties of the office in a satisfactory way and we appeal to you to support him at the polls next Tuesday.

DO THEY LIVE TOO LONG.

When the boys in blue were marching, fighting, starving, bleeding and dying to save this nation in 1861-65, W. J. Bryan was a baby in swaddling clothes. Nov, 18, 1892, at the ripe age of 32, this Bryan wrote the survivors of those old boys in blue as follows:

"The next congress will have to wrestle with one deficiency of $36,000,000. This is on account of pensions. The appropriation for pensions for the next year must be not less than $150,000,000. It is therefore easy arithmetic to perceive that the appropriation that congress must make for pensions at the next session must aggregate not less than $186,000,000. This tremendous sum would of itself be enough to run a reasonable government. One would not complain if it were an honorable debt, but a large proportion is not debt because it was never earned by any act of patriotism or heroic service. The government is held up and despoiled of no mean portion of this, and it seems helpless to defend itself. One cannot help being curious to know how many more years it will take to exhaust the generation which feels itself injured by the war. It is safe to say that never did a generation display such longevity."—Omaha World Heral (Bryan's Paper, Nov. 13, 1892.

Will those of the old boys whose "remarkable longevity" still keeps them with us, and their relatives and friends march proudly to the polls this fall and vote for this Bryan for president of the nation they preserved? Or will they not.—Grand Forks, (N. D.,) Herald.

THE LAST WEEK.

We are now in the last week of the presidential campaign, a period during which the decisive work will be done. The week just passed was not prolific of startling events, but there was one development that may have considerable influence upon the outcome. This was the President's participation by letter in the controversy over the labor vote Mr Roosevelt crowded Mr. Bryan into close quarters by showing just what is involved in the desperate compact made by Democratic candidate with Gompers by which the workingman is to be betrayed into support of the Denver ticket. Unquestionably the President's arraignment of Mr. Byran, made in a fashion for which Mr. Roosevelt is noted, will cause thousands of workingmen to halt and consider before turning their backs on the Republican party.

As far as perceptible on the surface there is no decided change in the situation compared with a week ago. The chances are still favorable to Taft and Sherman. The outlook in New York and Ohio, from a Republican standpoint, is promising. Nevertheless Republicans, in anticipating the result, must not ignore the unpleasant fact that in six normally Republican states their party has a real fight on its hands for governor. This is true of New York West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Connecticut. The Republicans may win all of these states on the governorship, but they will not have a walkover in any of them. To what extent are these bitter and close local contests affecting the campaign for president? If you can answer that question you are in position to say who will succeed Theodore Roosevelt in the White House.

In New York, Ohio and Indiana, the three states upon which political observers believe the presidency really hinges, this last week will be marked by campaigning of the most strenuous kind. Here the Republicans will mass their big guns, and party generals are confident that the demonstration will be effective. Meantime there is a growing impression that Mr. Bryan has become weaker with the people during the past few weeks, and that he cannot possibly stem the tide sufficiently to win out.

PARTY AND PRINCIPLE.

In voting for Congressman a man should vote his party conviction and thus endorse the principles of the party to which he belongs, because the Congressman is the party representative in the national lawmaking body. If a man has any doubt on this point let him give it a little solid thought, and he will soon realize that he cannot be true to the policies and principles of his party if he thoughtlessly votes to send an opposition member to Congress. Because Mr. Walker is from Centre county is no reason that Centre county voters should support him. The individuality of the candidates should not enter into the campaign in the least; it is the Republican vote on the floor of the House of Representatives that is wanted. A vote for Congressman therefore, becomes a vote for the party, for the administration, for the declaration of party principles, and for all that is at stake in the Nation.

The twenty-first district is sure Republican, and the Republican National committee looks to the Republican voters to return a Republican in order that the majority in Congress may be rendered secure. Hon. Charles F. Barclay, the Republican nominee was chosen by the Republican voters themselves at the party primaries, and is entitled to the vote of every loyal party man. To vote against him would be to strike a blow at the vitals of the party. Mr. Barclay has served the district one term and his vote was always recorded for the Republican cause on any issue effecting the party. When he goes back to Washington he will be found on the Republican side, voting for Republican principles. Under the circumstances he is entitled to the vote of every Republican in the district.

Fountainville, Pa., Feb. 16, 1902.

S. B. Hartman, M. D.

Dear Sir: I have been thinking of writing to you for some time to let you know what Peruna did for me.

I am 57 years old. I lost my health about six or seven years ago. I first had dyspepsia and employed different doctors.

Last year I injured one of my kidneys. I had one of the best doctors for that. He put me to bed, not to move for two weeks.

I slowly recovered, but was so weak and prostrated that I could walk but a short distance. In fact I had to keep quiet.

I took several remedies, but obtained no relief. I also had catarrh in some form.

My wife advised me to take Peruna, and it is with pleasure that I can say that by taking one and one-half bottle of your Peruna, it cured me and I feel all right. I send this with many thanks to you, as I enjoy life again.

My wife has also been taking your Peruna for asthma and it helps to relieve her. We keep your Peruna in the house constantly. Again I say I thank you for Peruna.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Fountainville, Pa., Nov. 9, 1903.

Dr. S. B. Hartman.

Dear Sir: I have good health now and your valuable medicine gave me good health. I have had no doctor for some time, as I do not need any. When I take cold I take Peruna and in a short time I am all right. My wife is subject to asthma. She takes Peruna at that time, and she has had no need for a doctor for some time. With many thanks for your medicine, we remain,

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Fountainville, Pa., April 16, 1906.

Dr. S. B. Hartman.

Dear Sir: We have Peruna in the house all the time and when we think we need it, we take it. We are about sixty years old and have not called a doctor to our place for some years.

We go out in all kinds of weather and sometimes when we go on a trip we take Peruna along. A preventive is better than a cure. That has been our experience.

I had poor health some years ago and when I found your medicine I hit the right thing. We both thank you for your good medicine.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Witness to Signatures.

I, John Donnelly, Mayor of Doylestown, Pa., have been acquainted with Mr. Philip Kratz for 25 years. I know him to be an honorable and useful citizen. He, in my presence, signed the above statements concerning Peruna, which I have every reason to believe are true in all particulars.

SIGNED. } JOHN DONNELLY, Esq.

HARRY E. ZIMMERMAN, one of the Republican candidates for County Commissioner, was born and raised on a farm in Marion township where he laid the foundation for a useful career. In 1875 he moved to Benner township and has since resided there. He is a farmer's son and has been following that noble occupation all his life. He has also engaged in lumbering and operated an ore bank. In both public and private life he has had a business training and experience that fully qualifies him for the important office of Commissioner. He has in his life time employed many men, and regardless of politics. It will be to your interests and the interests of the county to elect him to the office of Commissioner.

AT the time of the primaries there was a small party opposition to R. B. Taylor, the Republican candidate for Legislature, but this has disappeared and he will receive the full party vote as well as the Democratic vote that is opposed to J. C. Meyer. If the Republicans do their duty toward Mr. Taylor next Tuesday his election is assured.

Archimedes.

As a mechanician Archimedes produced the correct theory of the lever and invented no less than forty interesting devices, including the endless screw, the pump, the organ and the "burning glass," with which latter novel weapon he is said to have set fire to the ships of an enemy's fleet from a considerable distance. The story is probably fabulous, but none the less interesting, as exhibiting the faith of the people in the man and as indicating the character of his pursuits.

As engineer Archimedes was looked upon as hardly less than a magician. He produced catapults which threw enormous stones and heavy pikes at long range into the ranks of the enemy or into his ships, and great derricks were built by him with which to lift the attacking craft out of water or to upset it, destroying all on board. His proposed use of the lever meant the production of the inconceivable inventions in machinery and engineering construction, and his own estimate of its importance was expressed by the familiar quotation, "Give me whereon to stand and I will lift the earth." Archimedes was the first and perhaps the most inventive and greatest of early engineers. His lever still moves the world, and his spirit is inherited by generations of the men who have made modern civilization possible.—Cassier's Magazine.

The Royal Month and the Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so then to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its bunches, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probable not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative, —consumption.

Death of a Child.

Julia Margarite, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas who resides on Halfmoon hill, died Wednesday of membraneous croup. She was aged 4 years, 11 months and 17 days. Burial was made Friday forenoon.

Julia Margarite was an exceptionally bright child, always cheering the home and was loved by every one. Her death has cast a gloom over the family who are now quarantined on account of the contagious nature of the usually fatal disease. The sorrowing family have the deepest sympathy of their friends in their sad bereavement.

Gallagher—Lyons.

Clarence Gallagher and Miss Helen Lyon, both of this place were quietly married at the St. John's Catholic parsonage Wednesday evening at 7 30 o'clock. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McArdle. They departed on the evening train on a wedding trip and were given a royal send off by the friends of the groom, who serenaded them on their way to the station. They have the best wishes of their many friends for success in life's journey. Upon their return they will make their home in State College where the groom is employed.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny inside, hidden nerve, says Dr, Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the Heart, and one to the Kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must falter. Dr, Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by J. Zeller & Son.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrapper a full list of all its ingredients in plain English this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full on his formula and that it will bear the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure cure of weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is a medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which takes his patients into his full confidence by open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the abtive medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce,s medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

Francis Marion Cox, well known in Bellefonte and vicinity, died at his home in Prosserstown Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. For the past nine years he had been afflicted with locomotor ataxia, which made him helpless and confined him to the house. The long confinement resulted in consumption, causing his death at the time mentioned.

The deceased was born at Boiling Springs, Nov. 15, 1864, and was aged 44 years. All his life has been spent in this vicinity and he was at one time an employe in this office. Mr. Cox was a member of the Free Methodist church and died in the fullness of faith that a better world awaited him. Surviving him are his wife and eight children.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services being conducted in the church at the Forge by Rev. Collins of the Free Methodist church. Interment was made at Sunnyside.

Why She Never Married

A Johnstown girl who is verging on Old Maidhood, with no particular chance in view, explains to the Tribune editor the cause of it thus: She says that whenever a young man got to coming to their house often enough to think he might be serious he was promptly invited to be present for a meal either by her father or mother, no matter how hard she might try to prevent it. Then, when they went to the table, her father, no matter how much she had warned him previously, always requested the young man to ask a blessing, and this scared him so that he never came back. She declares she can count seventeen men who she believes would have asked her hand in marriage if it hadn't been for that.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system. Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate. Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. Got one of Dr. Miles books and found that Dr. Miles' Nervine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm. That's what Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."

JOHN JAMES, Riverton, Nebr.

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Nervine, and we authorize him to return price of first bottle (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Bloodhounds Put on Trail of Fugitives Who Were Convicted of Murdering Blind Soldier.

STATE CONSTABULARY ON THEIR TRAIL

Indiana, Pa., Oct. 23.—Joe Veltra and Bruno Carbone, foreigners, recently convicted of murder in the first degree, escaped from the county jail here this morning by cutting a hole in the ceiling of their cells. This gave them entrance to the hospital department. Tearing up a portion of the floor in the hospital they dropped through the ceiling of the public toilet room of the jail and escaped unmolested.

A detail of troop D, state constabulary at Punxsutawney, with two bloodhounds, is on its way here. The dogs will be put on the trail as soon as they arrive. A reward of $500 is offered by the county for the return of either or both men.

The men are Italians. On July 17 they met Robert Fosier, a partially blind soldier of the civil war at Punxsutawney enticed him to a woods near Glen Campbell, boundary, where he was murdered and robbed. Veltra and Carbone were arrested the following day and convicted of the murder on September 18, but had not been sentenced,

Mrs. Frank Veltra, a sister-in-law of Joe Veltra, is in the jail charged with being an accessory to the crime. It is alleged that she helped plan the escape, as until a week ago she occupied the room through which the prisoners cut through to freedom.

Farmers' Week at State College.

The school of agriculture in the Pennsylvania State College offered a program for Farmers' Week last winter that attracted hundreds of farmers from one-half the counties of the state. The lectures were by practical scientists who pleased their hearers. The next Farmers' Week will begin December 30th and close January 6th. Noted specialists from many states will assist the faculty of the school of agriculture in making the coming meeting the greatest in the history of the state's agriculture. The attendance now promises to be so large that it is necessary to schedule four lectures for the same hour, in order that the visitors may be accommodated. The arrangement will be such that a specialist may select lectures of direct interest to himself throughout each day of the week. The program will be ready for distribution about November 15th. Write for one, addressing "School of Agriculture, State College, Pa."

WORLD CONDEMNS CASTRO.

Press of All Lands Agrees That Venezuela's President Is an International Nuisance That Some Power Should Abate.

Apropos of the trouble between Castro and the Dutch, the Pan-American in its current issue publishes comment from the newspapers of Europe and South America on Castro, his style of government and his method of dealing with foreign powers and interests. In its own account the Pan-American says:

"The result of the association of decent states with retrograde states is hurtful. One South American republic has done more to blacken the character of and destroy the world's confidence in Latin-American republics than can be wiped out of the world's memory in many decades. This alleged republic and its kind should be blacklisted commercially and in all national dealings. Most of the important world powers have already ostracized this 'republic' for good and sufficient reasons. South American states would do well to follow Europe's example."

Neither La Prensa of Rio de Janeiro, the Herald of Buenos Aires nor Modern Mexico expresses any sympathy for Castro. The last-named paper advises him not to look for help from the United States should the Netherlands government take radical action. Modern Mexico adds: "Castro would show sound sense by meeting the American government halfway in the matter of the American claims.

"But if he won't it is not likely, unless, indeed, Castro is fatuous enough to leave the United States government no choice, that there will be war or even that that government will furnish to Venezuela any reasonable excuse for complaining of a lack of international 'correctness' on its part."

An International Nuisance.

From the London Times this quotation is given: "On all available evidence the rule of Cipriano Castro has been and is a system of sheer brigandage. The messages in which he belauds himself and his sway and assures the world, with all the extravagance of Spanish-American rhetoric, that he has made Venezuela great, glorious and free are masterpieces of impudent mendacity. But the man is not only a ruthless and greedy tyrant at home. He has long been an international nuisance, and sooner or later, by one power or by another, that nuisance will have to be abated."

The Hague Telegraaf says: "The dispute is not of a private or commercial character, like previous difficulties between Venezuela and the British, German and American governments, which were more or less of a private nature, the object being to obtain satisfaction for a claim, which is not made in the case of Holland. The question is rather one of sovereignty and national honor and is not susceptible of solution by means of arbitration."

"Should Holland blockade La Guayra she may reckon on the support of Europe and America," says the Paris Temps. "Thus to chastise the arrogance of the dictator might afford an opportunity for obtaining a settlement all round of Venezuela's outstanding difficulties with the other powers."

FAIR PLAY FOR RAILROADS.

Organization Formed to Secure "Square Deal" For Carriers.

Representatives of the principal railway supply companies have formed an organization for the purpose of promoting a better understanding between the public and the carriers. George A. Post of the Standard Coupler company is president of the new organization, which has adopted the name of the Railway Business association, the principal office of which will be in New York. The Westinghouse Air Brake company, American Locomotive company, Pettibone, Mulliken & Co. of Chicago, Union Switch and Signal company and other important concerns are represented in the list of officers and committees.

It is declared that the aims of the organization will be "to advocate and in all honorable ways endeavor to secure fair play to railways in matters of federal and state legislation, to favor such adjustment of transportation rates as will be equitable and adequately remunerative to the railways, to arouse among all those who make their living by serving railways and the manufacturing interests allied therewith a sense of active loyalty to their common interests, which shall manifest itself in defense thereof when subjected to unjust attack."

In Place of Fresh Fruit.

Now that fresh fruit is getting scarce the housewife is compelled to use larger quantities of currants, raisins and other dried fruits. With a better understanding of the food value of these products there has been an immense increase in the amount used in the household. Currants are especially valuable because they are a naturally dried grape, and when water is added they become practically the equivalent of fresh fruit, containing more than 75 per cent of nutriment.

There are hundreds of ways in which currants can be used in bread, cakes and pastry. This is a recipe that has lately been prepared by one of New York's celebrated food experts:

Currant Gateau Cream.—One pound of currants, three-fourths ounce of gelatin, three-fourths pint of water, three ounces of sugar and one-fourth pint of claret. Soak the currants and boil them in the water till tender. Sieve, add the other ingredients and the gelatin dissolved in a little water. Pour into a mold, turn out when set.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle-wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilerating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Perscription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and all answers are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

The Stone of Infamy.

In many Italian cities there formerly existed what was called "pietra d'infamie," or a stone of infamy for the punishment of bankrupts. In Venice one stands near the Church of St. Mark, and in Verona and Florence they are near the old markets. On a day in carnival week the old time custom was to have all traders who had become bankrupt in the preceding twelve months led to the stone, and one by one each stood on its center to hear the reading of a report of his business failure and to endure the reproaches heaped on him by his creditors. At the end of a certain time each bankrupt was partly undressed, and three officers took hold of his shoulders and three others of his knees and, raising him as high as they could, bumped him on the stone deliberately twelve times, "in honor of the twelve apostles," the creditors crowing like cocks while the bumping proceeded.

Wigs and Trousers.

The wig went out and gave place to the natural hair, powered and pigtailed, as a result of the movement back to nature which accompanied and preceded the French revolution. But why did the wig come in? Some say that Louis XIII. started the fashion when he began to grow bald, the court imitating him out of a desire to please the monarch. Be that as it may, the wig "caught on" as few articles of costume have ever done, and those who have begun to despair of the masculine leg ever being emancipated from the trouser may find comfort in the fact that wigs prevailed for considerably more than a century in England, whereas trousers scarcely existed a hundred years ago, to say nothing of being the universal wear.—London News.

Mother Earth.

When Junius Brutus and the sons of Tarquin asked the famous Delphic oracle who was to succeed Superbus on the throne of Rome they received for an answer, "He who shall first kiss his mother." As the two princes were hastening home to fulfill what they thought was meant Brutus fell to the earth and cried out, "Thus do I kiss thee, O Earth, the mother of us all!" This is perhaps the earliest recorded instance of the use of the term "Mother Earth."—Exchange.

Diplomacy.

"I'm surprised at you."

"What's the matter now?"

"Why, your wife tells me you've invited the grocer and butcher to your party tonight!"

"Well, what of it?"

"Think of what you owe society."

"Yes, but think what I owe my grocer and butcher!"—Judge.

More Than One.

"I remember your wife as such a dainty and pretty thing, Humly, and yet they tell me she has turned out a fine cook."

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

NUMBER ONE.
A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and to give the General Assembly power to establish a separate court in Philadelphia county, with criminal and miscellaneous jurisdiction.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That the following amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same are hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas, shall be vested in one court of common pleas in each of said counties, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of each of the said courts shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in each of said courts may be, by law, increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first Monday of January succeeding its adoption.

Section 2. That article five, section eight, be amended by making an addition thereto so that the same shall read as follows:

No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the time of the election of constables, by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. Trophies of the Chase.

In the days when buffalo still roamed the plains of Kansas in countless numbers a great many hunting parties came over from Europe to have a hand in their slaughter. One party was composed of a Frenchman named Auguste Rouzand, the first husband of Christine Nilsson, the prima donna, and an Englishman, a Mr. Blackmore, from London. They arrived at Dodge City one day in the fall with a carload of equipment, including every sort of delicacy that the market afforded and several large trunks full of bright new butcher knives. A detachment of the Sixth cavalry from Fort Dodge was detailed to accompany them, and probably no command ever fared better than that one did. The Englishman shot a few buffalo, and the soldiers slaughtered them by the hundreds. But the Frenchman didn't kill one. Instead, as fast as the animals were shot he would take one of his brand new butcher knives, plunge it into the slain animal until it was smeared with blood, wrap it carefully in tissue paper and put it back in the trunk as a trophy of the chase to exhibit when he got back to Paris as proof of his mighty prowess as a hunter. That was his idea of sport.—Kansas City Star.

Thread Used In Surgery.

Are you aware that the modern surgeon employs in his work dozens of different kinds of thread for sewing up cuts and wounds? Among them are kangaroo tendons, horsehair, silk and very fine silver wire. Many of these threads are intended to hold for a certain number of days and then naturally break away. The short, tough tendons taken from the kangaroo, which are used for sewing severe wounds, will hold for about four weeks before they break away. Silk thread will remain much longer, sometimes six months, while the fine silver wire is practically indestructible.

With the entire outfit a surgeon is able to select a thread that will last as long as the wound takes to heal and will then disappear completely. To accommodate this assortment of threads special varieties of needles are required. Besides the needle craned in different segments of a circle, surgeons use needles shaped like spears, javelins and bayonet points. — St. James' Gazette.

Just Names.

She had passed a season abroad, and in London, she said modestly, her success had been unprecedented. The earl said he could readily believe that.

"The dinner," she resumed, "that Lady Featherstonhaugh"—

"Excuse me. The name is pronounced Freestonhay," said the earl.

"Well, at the dinner Lord Dalzell"—

"Though written Dalzell, it is pronounced Deal. But pray go on."

"He and Sir Dugald Colquhoun"—

"You mean Calhoun. Yes?"

"And Lady Leveson-Gower and Mr. Bohun"—

"Lewson-Gore and Boone are the correct pronunciations. But I'm interrupting you."

"Not at all. All these persons and Lord St. Maur drank"—

"Not St. Maur—Seymour. Well?"

"Oh, I forgot what I was going to say. You've quite put me out with your corrections."

"And your story was just getting interesting, too," said the earl regretfully.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Professor Blackie's Opinion.

A correspondent sends an anecdote concerning the attempt of a serious minded lady to lure Professor Blackie into giving his opinion of Sankey's hymns at a time when they had an enormous vogue. The lady was giving the professor lunch, and he tried to fob her off by praising a Stilton cheese on the table. Some time after the lady sent him a copy of Sankey and a piece of the cheese, hoping thus to draw him. She succeeded to the extent of these four lines of verse:

Thrice blessed is she that hath done what she could
To make a lean man fat and a bad man good—
For the body, cheese; for the soul, Sankey;
For both, thankee.

—Glasgow Herald.

A Polite Turn Down.

Sir Algernon West in his reminiscences tells this story of Robert Browning: "When he had become famous some one wanted very much to meet him. A kind friend arranged a meeting, and the guest besieged Browning with questions and conversation during dinner, and even after dinner he continued buttonholing his victim. 'Come,' said the poet, 'this will never do. They will say I am monopolizing you!'"

Soda and Water.

For sheer simplicity of phrase and conception few have surpassed that delightful old lady who, with a shrewd twinkle in her eye, inquired whether "soda water" should be written as two separate words or if there should be a siphon between them.

An Appeal for "The Bread Line."

The Bowery mission "Bread Line," at which 1,000 men who are out in the streets for the night are given a breakfast of hot coffee and rolls every morning at one o'clock, is one of the most pathetic sights in all the wide, wide world. Long before the hour of opening, these poor, starving men stand in a single line that sometimes extends for blocks in length, waiting for the coffee and rolls. During the winter, this breakfast is given to an aggregate of 210,000 homeless men and boys, and up to date over half a million of the homeless have had their weary tramp restfully interrupted by this unique ministration. The first of these Breakfasts is given on Thanksgiving morning, and the last on the following Easter morning. Altogether the Mission supplied, this year, over 312,000 meals and 57,000 lodgings to homeless men and boys.

It is for this grand, philanthropic work that we ask your kind and practical co-operation. The homeless, friendless, disheartened and despairing men and boys of the Bowery are not native New Yorkers, but men and boys who, until within a year, lived happily at the old homestead with father and mother; and perhaps wife. They are stranded here, and in despair appeal to the Old Bowery Mission, which, for over thirty years, has been to the unfortunate, as the rescue of old, a haven of encouragement, rest and protection. Shall we turn them away? It rests with the good people of this country to decide this question, and may God graciously help you to decide it aright. John C. Earl, Financial Secretary, 92 Bible House, New York City.

Mrs. Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says; I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. A good sight for the building is being looked up. T. R. Harter, John Brown and W. A. Morris are behind the movement, which guarantees its success.

—There were two men in Bellefonte Thursday who had reason to be proud. One was the local editor of this paper, who had pleasseure of wearing the hat of a member of the 49th while some member of that historic regiment was gracing his head with the hat of the editor. While we have probably secured the best of the bargain we do not exactly like the style and would readily exchange lids with the veteran who took ours by mistake at the afternoon meeting. Among the hits of the evening were the singing and dancing by Conroy and Lee, the monologues and singing by Charlie Gans, the world's great bone soloist John Goss in his original act which won the admiration of all and the expert juggling by Rolen. The negro absurdity "The Champeen" was a laughable closing act.

—Farmers in this section who were interested in the statements published about Alaska wheat, pro and con, will be pleased to know that Coleman K. Sober, of Lewisburg, has decided to make an experiment with the wheat himself, and has accordingly set aside five acres on his fine Irish valley farm and seeded it with the celebrated Alaska wheat. His experiment will be watched with interest, for those who know Mr. Sober realize that he will give it a fair test. This will be a means of satisfying the farmers as to the great producing qualities that have been claimed for this wheat.

—One of the best hunting items of the season comes from Sonestown, Lycoming county, the hero of the unusual achievement being Charles Simmons of that place, an engineer on the Eagles Mere railroad. —On Monday next the Indiana Normal school team will play a return game with the Bellefonte Academy football team. The Normal team is the only team that has defeated the Academy so far this season. There is no doubt but the teams are evenly matched but the Academy boys were sore and stiff from the game on the previous day with Punxsy, whom they defeated 5-0. Last Saturday Indiana defeated Punxsy 5-0, an evidence that Indiana and the Academy are in the same class. The game next Monday afternoon promises to be one of the closest and hard fought that will be played here this season. Everybody turnout and root for the Academy, Bellefonte's own team.

Illumination.

In days gone by the presidential campaigns were occasions for big jollifications, speech making and anything to arouse the interest of the people, but now they pass off so quietly that if the newspapers did not mention it we would scarcely know there was a campaign on. But something has seemingly taken the place of these meetings of former times. Athletics are now occupying a prominent place in the minds of the people and serves as a means of giving vent to their pent-up enthusiasm.

The boys of the old Academy created an unusual and lively interest in Bellefonte Monday evening in the event of the celebration of their victory over the strong foot ball team of Dickinson seminary, Williamsport. Hearing of the record of the Seminary team the boys of the Academy went to Williamsport Saturday morning intending to work hard to hold the Seminary's score as low as possible with little thought of ever defeating them. The game was a double surprise—the Academy boys were surprised at their ability to defeat Dickinson and Dickinson was surprised that the Academy was able to defeat them However it was an occasion for great rejoicing and accordingly a jollification was scheduled to take place on the diamond Monday evening.

A large number of boxes, etc., were secured and piled up on the diamond and after being saturated with oil the match was applied amid the cheers of the student body of the Academy. A large crowd had assembled to witness the bonfire and soon there was a call for speeches. Coach Charles E. Hall was the first man up but before he had said many words the heat from the fire grew so intense that he was compelled to move. Following him were Prof. James R. Hughes, Captain Smith of the football team, D. F. Fortney, Rev. James P. Hughes, and Rev. J. Allison Platts, Prof. Hughes then acting as toastmaster, called upon the players one by one to stand upon the box and be introduced to the crowd. Here is where some of the boys flaked, and although they are crack football players they blushed to face an audience. Some of them ran away and others almost fainted and had to be carried to the speaker's stand. But we suppose it was only modesty. The boys received the congratulations of the speakers for their successes on the gridiron and the encouragement of all for future victories.

It is not more than right that all the Academy athletic teams should receive the support and encouragement of the citizens of Bellefonte. When they go to other towns the Academy is usually lost track of and they are considered as "Bellefonte." We should be proud of having such a team in our town and lend them all the encouragement that is due them for they are in a great measure an advertisement to Bellefonte and such that the town would not receive in any other way. May victory be theirs in future contests.

Interesting Services.

Old Folks Day was very appropriately observed in the Methodist church Sunday. In the forenoon a number of elderly persons who were not otherwise able to go were taken to the church in carriages and the pastor preached an appropriate sermon on the theme, "The Crown of Old Age," taking his text from Proverbs 16: 31, "The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness." Many relics of olden times were used as decorations for the church, among them being a grandfathers clock, andirons and tongs, spinning wheel, old style candlesticks and snuffers, old books and Bibles some of the old church records and many interesting relics of the early days of the church. In the evening the pastor preached on the them, "The Landmarks of the Fathers."

Clubbing Affray.

While celebrating at a Slavish christening in Coleville Sunday afternoon some of the guests who were too much imbued with the spirits of the occasion, began to quarrel among themselves. Clubs were brought into service as weapons of offense and defense and as result some of them are suffering with sore heads. One of them received a pretty good blow. An effort was made Sunday night to locate some of the offenders but without success. Monday Policemen Beezer and Dukeman and Deputy Sheriff Reese succeded in locating five Hungarians who were implicated in the affray and they were brought into the jail, and were given a hearing before Squire Keichline Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Operation for Appendicitis.
